Rector
Bangladesh Public Administration
Training Center (BPATC)
Savar, Dhaka

It is indeed a pleasure for me to know that the participants of the 2nd Special Advanced Course on Administration and Development (ACAD) are going to publish a Souvenir to commemorate the Cultural Evening and Mess Night which is going to take place on 1 March 2010, the penultimate evening of their 45-day stay at BPATC.

BPATC organises ACAD for mid-level (Deputy Secretary) officials of the Government. This course used to be a 75-day course. But in order to meet the demand of the day and to make it more effective, BPATC redesigned ACAD Curriculum and reduced the length to 45 days. 2nd Special ACAD is one of the two pilot courses being conducted by BPATC to make the transition from the longer version of the course to its shorter version fruitful. The 2nd Special ACAD, like the 1st one, reaffirms that a 45-day course is going to be more effective and acceptable to stakeholders. I congratulate all the 27 participants of this course not only for successful completion, but also for being a part of a very important transition process so far ACAD is concerned.

I believe the participants will bring back to their respective workplaces a rich blend of fresh understanding on recent issues on administration and development, as well as a refreshed mind-set that'll help them in doing their jobs in a better way.

Let the Cultural Evening of the 2nd Special ACAD a massive success!

MDS (Project) and Course Adviser
2nd Special ACAD
BPATC, Savar, Dhaka

I am happy to learn that the participants of the 2nd Special ACAD are going to hold cultural evening and also they are going to publish a Souvenir to mark the event.

The 2nd Special ACAD is the second of its nature. The very concept of ACAD is going through a transition phase - transition from a 75-day course with much elaborated curriculum to a 45-day course with more focused topics.

My involvement with this course was not very routine type. Rather I had to work on the curriculum and selection of resource persons on a more dynamic environment where I had to bring necessary adjustments in the course planning as the course progressed and the participants came out with various suggestions regarding almost everything about the course. This was quite challenging as opposed to earlier courses where we followed a static kind of curriculum. I am proud to say that the participants did a splendid job by providing the course management with lots of innovative and rational ideas that helped us shaping and reshaping the future regular ACAD courses.

I would like to extend my heartiest greetings to all of the participants for taking part in this course and coming out successfully. I would also like to congratulate them for their extra-curricula efforts in organizing a colourful Cultural Evening and publishing a rich Souvenir.

Director (Economic Theory) &
Course Director
2nd Special ACAD
BPATC, Savar, Dhaka

I am delighted to learn that the participants of the 2nd Special Advanced Course on Administration and Development (ACAD) is going to publish a colorful souvenir with a view to capturing their memories during their forty-five days stay in BPATC.

It has been a privilege for me to work as the Course Director for a bunch of wonderfully talented people, who, despite being under mounting pressure, had always been vibrant and impressive in all regards. It has been challenging for me to accomplish the task bestowed on me, but it also provided me tremendous opportunities to know every participant very closely. I firmly believe that besides fulfilling its avowed objectives, the course has created a strong relationship and cohesion among the participants. The fellow-feeling created during the course will verily outlive the thorns of time.

I sincerely appreciate their endeavor to bring out a souvenir in spite of the tight training schedule, which alludes to the immense resourcefulness as well as indomitable will power of the participants. I wish that the souvenir will keep memorable past alive in their lives and will be a never-ending source of 'bliss of solitude'.

I wish each participant every success in life.

Course Coordinators
2nd Special ACAD
BPATC, Savar, Dhaka

Working as the Course Coordinators of the 2nd Special Advanced Course on Administration and Development (ACAD) has been an honor and tremendous learning experience for us. We have availed the opportunities of developing ourselves from the day-to-day interactions with the participants of the course. We had been lucky to come in contact with a group of wonderfully gifted people, whose flamboyance and vigor hardly waned even under the tight schedule and heavy stress of training. We have always found the participants highly enthusiastic and their epistemological curiosity to learn had been awe-inspiring.

The attempt to bring out a gaudy souvenir, a demonstration of their ingenuity and energy, is a traditional but magnificent way of salvaging the unforgettable days from being lost in the inevitable vastness of the past. We strongly believe that the souvenir will help keep the BPATC days ever fresh and vivid in their minds in the days to come.

We felicitate them on their successful completion.

Editor's Words

I feel myself privileged to shoulder the responsibilities of editing this Souvenir and to be member of the publication team as well.

The task of publishing a souvenir of this kind is, no doubt, a big challenge, specially when we had to go through tight daily schedules of the ACAD course. Nevertheless, the Committee took the challenge and promised to deliver something of very high quality that the participants and the course management of the 2nd Special ACAD will remember. We face a number of real hurdles including collection of message from the Rector and Course Management, collection of profile information from participants and keying-in all of those matters into computer. Another hurdle was how to generate sufficient fund for getting the job done. By the grace of the Almighty and the hard work of all team members, specially our team-leader we could meet the challenges and finally here we are ready to deliver what we've produced, 'Essence'.

I would like to extend my thanks to my team members, specially the team leader for her true efforts to collect sufficient fund for our endeavour. I also express my thanks for the course management for extending all the supports and cooperation we needed time to time. The PMC of the 2nd Special ACAD contributed with money and effective advice and all the participants of the course actively cooperated. Otherwise it would have not been possible. I say, thank you all very much.

No matter how sincerely we worked, you may still find errors and omissions in the book. We'll sincerely expect that you'll just bear with those.

চিহ্নিত সীমানার পাড়ে
ম,আ, কাশেম মাসুদ

এই দ্যাখো,
এই জমি আমার দাদার
এই মম্পত্তি কিনেছি আমার নিজের টাকায়
আর এই জমি আমি পেয়েছি পৈত্রিক সূত্রে,
এভাবে আমি অনেক কিছুই পেয়েছি
যা শুধু আমার,
তাকে আমি নিজের বলে ভাবি
আর এম্বেরই সীমানা চিহ্নিত আছে,
সীমানা চিহ্নিত আছে আমার জন্মভূমি বাঙলারও।
অথচ নীল আকাশ কত উদার, কত বিরাট,
উন্মুক্ত পথের শেষ নেই তার
যেখানে ইচ্ছে
হারিয়ে যাওয়া যায় সীমাহীন।
পাখীরা যেখানে পাখপোটে ছাড়াই দেশান্তরী হয়,
আহা! কী সুন্দর ঐ আকাশ
আর পাখীদের জীবন।

আগন্তুক মোঃ সামসুদ্দোহা

আমাদেরকে চিনতে পারছেন না ?
এত অহঙ্কেই ভুলে গেলে!
অথচ,
এমনতো হবার কথা ছিল না
আমাদেরও তো স্বপ্ন ছিল
আমরাও স্বপ্ন দেখতাম
স্বপ্ন দেখতাম মাতৃভাষার
মুক্ত স্বাধীন আনার বাঁধনার।
আমাদের যে স্বপ্ন তো অফসুত হয়েছিল।
ভেবেছিলাম,
স্বাধীনতা মানুষের মুখে হাসি ফোঁটাবে
ঘরে ঘরে বয়ে আনবে সুখ,
ফুলে ভরবে মাঠ, বাগানে ফুটেবে ফুল।
যে ফুলের মৌরভ আর মাটির মৌদা গন্ধে
মাতাম হয়ে ঘুমুঝো আমরা।
কিন্তু হঠাৎ শূন্যের শব্দে চমকে উঠলাম
রক্তের ক্রাপটো লাগনো চোখে মুখে।
অথচ,
এমনটিতো হবার কথা ছিল না,
এখানে শূন্যের শব্দ শোনারতো কথা ছিল না,
এখানে রক্তের বন্যা বইবার তো কথা ছিল না।
তাইতো আর ঘুমতে পারলাম না,
দল বেধে অব ঝুঁটে এলাম
শুধু তোমাদেরকে স্মরণ করিয়ে দিতে
একদিন যে হাতিয়ার আমরা হাতে তুলে নিয়েছিলাম
কালের স্রোতে তার গায়ে কিছুটা মরচে ধরলেও
তা একেবারে অকেজো হয়ে যায়নি।

Laughter is one of the best medicines

Mst. Nasima Begum

1. The younger son of a mother is very naughty. One day the mother became very annoyed with him and told him, "I'll send you to the jungle". The naughty boy readily said to his mother, "I'll send you also to the jungle". Now the younger son is also very attached to his mother. So the mother asked, "Whom will you call mum then, if you send me to the jungle?" "Why, you and I will be in the same jungle", the naughty but witty boy concluded.

2. A wounded man was hospitalized with one injured leg which needed to be operated soon. Unfortunately, the surgeon operated the wrong leg (good one) by mistake. When the affect of anesthesia was over, the doctor said to the patient, "Sir, I have two news to give you - one is good and the other one is bad. Which one would you like to hear first?" The patient innocently replied, "As you like". The doctor continued, "The bad news is that your good leg has been operated instead of your injured leg, and the good news is that the next door patient expressed his willingness to buy your pair of shoes". ,

Korea's Economic Development: Through Regulatory Reforms

Shah Md. Abu Raihan Alberuni

Korea i.e. South Korea (Republic of Korea) once known to be one of the poorest agro-based country in the world. It has undertaken economic development in earnest since 1962. An outward oriented economic development strategy, which used experts as the engine of growth, contributed greatly to the radical economic transformation of Korea. Based on such strategy, many successful development programs were implemented. As a result, from 1962 to 2006 GNI (Gross National Income) increased from $ 2.3 billion to $ 887.3 billion, with its per capita GNI soaring from $ 87 to about $ 18372. These miracle figures clearly point out magnitude of success that these economic programs have brought about.

GNI and per capita GNI drastically dropped to $ 340.4 billion and $ 7,335 in 1998 due to fluctuation in foreign exchange rates but these figures returned to pre-economic crisis level afterward. Once Korea was a agro based county and there were no natural resources. Korea had to import raw material, oil, Machinery and Service sector also.

Korea imports have steadily increased cause to the national liberalization policy asset increasing per capita income level. As are of the longest import markets in the world, the volume of Korea's imports exceeded those of China in 1995, and were comparable to the imports of Malaysia, Indonesia and the Philippines combined.

Major Korea import items are as follow: they are raw material 30%, machinery 30%, oil 30% and service sector 10% (finance, transport, construction, company etc.)

After this, the Bangladesh team was informed that in the perspective of 1997 financial crisis's descending to severe recession in 1998 with output failing by sever percent (7%). Korea started regulatory reforms. It constituted the Regulatory Reform Committee (RRC) by enactment of law. The Korea RRC is comprised of 25 members; where 7 are the Govt. Ministers and 18 private sector members and is co-headed by the Prime Ministers and a private sector experts. The 18 private sector members are experts from various fields, including law, engineering specialist, business management and members of leading civil society, groups such as on environmental organizations or consumer protection organization as its committee member (Private sectors representation was 13 before 2006) Its functions are to

(a) determine basic direction of regulatory policy and research/development of regulatory system (b) Evaluating new regulations and those to be strengthened. (c) Evaluating existing regulations, drafting and executing comprehensive regulatory reform plan. (d) Registering and publicizing regulations. (e) Gathering and Considering opinions on regulatory reform. (f) Inspecting and evaluating actual regulatory reform, progress at each administrative level.

What was done by RRC SO far?

(a) In a sense, the 1997 financial crisis was a blessing in disguise, which made it possible to get a broad support for structural reform.

(b) The regulatory reform Committee (RRC) was established in 1998 and the RRC played a leading role in carrying out regulatory reform in order to overcome the crisis.

Results of RRC :

(a) The Korean government abolished 5,958 regulations and revised 2,981 regulations in 1998 and 1999. This means that more than a half of total of 11,125 regulations were eliminated or rationalized for the 2 years.

The recent goal of Korean government for the regulatory reforms is achieving regulatory quality and national competitiveness at the level of advanced countries. Under this goal, it reoriented the reform process away from simply reducing the number of regulatory to a greater focus on regulatory quality.

People's perception of Regulatory Reform:

(a) The regulatory reform Committee conduct surveys each year to hear the people's and experts opinions on the regulatory reform. The results of survey are being used as feedbacks each year.

(b) Most of the respondents of the survey express their positive remarks in the results over the last 3 years, but not satisfactory views on the government's strong commitment to reform.

Policy formulation process in Korea :

(a) According to the administrative procedure Act, each ministry should collect opinions of peoples for 20 days through a notification for newly establishing or revising laws or proposed regulations. The purpose of the notification is to secure fairness, transparency and reliability of the administration.

(b) It is become compulsory to simultaneously announce the regulatory impact assessment (RIA) along with the notice of pending legislation since July 1, 2006.

(c) People's hearing and comments are also to be undertaken. RRC, could also consider the suggestions of the stakeholders in the regulatory review process. RRC can hear directly from the community people by inviting them in a meeting.

(d) Each administrative ministry has to disclose objectives and key contents of legislation proposal to the media such as official gazette, internet and newspaper. Comments of the stakeholders are accepted with respect and result is to be notified to commenter. Government can hold a public hearing to collect extensive opinions from experts and citizen.

(e) The government reviews the opinions of the stakeholders and responds individually who stated the opinions.

Regulatory Review by RRC :

(a) When each ministry requests a regulatory review to the RRC, it must submit the opinion of related stakeholders along with the RIA and the self-review results.

(b) Citizens can submit their comments at any time through various ways including the RRC website and the RRC invites stakeholders to the committee to directly hearing their comments whenever necessary during the review process.

(c) The Administrative procedure Act and the BAAR guarantees institutional mechanism helps to collect civil society groups opinions in the regulatory reform process, civil society groups can request for improving regulation by suggestion their opinions to the RRC, and may also participate in the committee initiatives.

(d) The proposal is then reviews by the cabinet council and forwarded to the national Assembly.

Considering this perspective, the Korean Government began regulatory reform in earnest in the 1990. In 1993, about 6,000 regulations were reformed by the Administrative reform Committee and in 1997, nearly 100 reform projects were selected and began by the Regulatory reform Promotion committee. Tuowever, these reform efforts were mostly limited to resolving simple and minor inconveniences such as reducing the number of required documents.

If we look at our county, we see that, in Bangladesh. There we more than 10,000 regulations (acts rules, byelaws, circulars, resolutions etc.) to administers the country, but mast of the regulation are hundred years old, imperative and we not mulched with the necessity of the people the pres it condition. Yet attentive newsier are being take so for by the government of Bangladesh to tackle the preset safeties. Considing the preset regulatory complicacy, Government of Bangladesh formed Regulatory Reform Core Group (RRC G) with the mid-level officials/ executives both from Government and private sector with the technical assistance of Ifc. The objective of the regulatory Reform Core Group program was to expose mid level, promising and motivated individuals from private sector, to an intensive program focused on encouraging then to identify and implement regulatory reforms within their own agencies.

IFC organized various programs for the PRCG; like-convene workshop / seminar, orientation on computer, English language course, exposure visit both in local and abroad and so on.

The Bangladesh team visited Korea Regulatory Reform office, prime Minister's office, Anti-corruption and civil Rights Commission, Korea customs service, Korea post Hanging (shipping service), scout Transport Operation and operation service offices to see reform process there. Now let us look back to the regulatory reform methodology in Bangladesh. Reform is a continuous process. It was initiated earlier in the land administrator sector, but not fully success. There are also reforms in other sector. In some cases we made success. In law acquisition system reform are made clearly. Formerly there were two main law for acquisitions of land (I) the land Acquisition Act, 1894 and (II) The East Bengal (Emergency) Requisition of properties which were used to acquire land needed for public purposes or in public interest. Modifying the two old law, a new ordinance named, the Acquisition and Requisition of immovable property ordinance 1982 have been promulgated with a view to cut short the lengthy process and ensure early delivery of land to the requiring bodies. Under the new ordinance, the Deputy commissioner has been given power to acquire land up to 10 big has in an expedition manner particularly, when there are no objections. Under the new law entire land acquisition process is done in the office of the Add. Deputy commissioner (Rev) with the help of the land Acquisition the 1982 ordinance have simplified the process of issuing of notice, heaving of objections, finalization of the cases and word of compensation particulars in respect of land required for development projects at the Upazilla level. We mean it is a great reform in land vanquish purposes. Like this may of the laws, which are old and lengthy process based should be modified. The Regulatory Reform commission can take initiative to modify the outdated law with the help of IFC in Bangladesh.

Now I suggest, recommend and can elude at following manner.

(I) Regulatory Reforms Commission (RRC) might be restructuring with the model of Korea's RRC.

(II) Need to select target based sector in Korea and other OECD member countries and study tour might be designed for getting hands on experience for some selected officials who will work on regulatory matter in Bangladesh.

(III) Overseas training on RIA, Regulatory issues ABR could be undertaken.

(IV) We learnt many things in Korea especially on regulatory matters which are helpful for us to work on regulatory issues.

(V) During designing overseas programs, a sharing meeting among RRCG, IFC and provable institutions and sectors could be identified to visit to share information and ideas.

(VI) Cooperation Agreement with IFC could be extended for a period of 10 years to deliver technical support to Government of Bangladesh to make programs sustainable.

Conclusion :

Per capita GNP of Korea is now $ 18,372 which was only $ 87 in 1960. Korea developed rapidly from 1960, fueled by high saving and investment rates and a strong emphasis on education. This economic upsurge of Korea makes them to become the 29th member country of the organization for economic cooperation and development (OECD) in 1996. It's economic overall growth is called the 'Miracle', as it has rapid industrialization and export expansion, increase employment, education level, physical capital etc. In a sense, the 1997 financial crisis is called a blessing in Korea, which made it possible to get a broad support for structural reform and formed the Regulatory Reform Committee (RRC) in 1998.

RRC in Korea played a leading and strong role in carrying out regulatory reforms in Korea in order to overcome the crisis. As immediate initiatives, RRC cut about 50%, regulations (5,958 out of 11,125 regulations) in 1998 and 1999 and revised 2,981 regulations in a same span of time. It delivered better result for the country and economic upsurge is being continued. Under the regulatory Reform framework, Korea re structured and improved the Anti-corruption and civil Rights commission, upgraded transport operation system; modernize customs services through automation, improved, communication and information services, upgraded postal services which are vitally essential for promoting economic activities. Finally, Korea is able to create conducive environment to operate and run business through improving all related services. Thus, Korea could be the model for Bangladesh to take forward its economic activities through private sector promotion, employment generation and poverty alleviation the writer is a member of the Regulatory Reform core Group recreantly Ministry of land as well as GOB.
